BIG SCALE FARMING BY BROWN COMPANY IN MIDDLE GLADES

Hundreds of Acres of Celery, Beets, Carrots and Onions Are Being Planted

COLD STORAGE HOUSE, REFRIGERATOR BARGE

Pre-Cooling System To Be Used; Research Department Studies Insects

This is how cabbage is transported at the Brown Company plant at Shawnee 13 miles south of Belle Glade. Here two carts, a caterpillar tractor pulls a roller of frame construction several feet high and wide across the flat land. Behind each cart, behind the four planters, on each of which a colored man is seated, supports an ample quantity of plants which have open furrows into which the workers place plants, and as the plants are set, rollers press and align them. The plants are upright, and jets of water spray and moisten the soil into which the plants have been set.

The question is, what acreage of cabbage is to be planted, whatever the acreage is, it will be well worth the trouble which would have been a foolish inquiry.

Peanuts is the main crop on the Shawnee farm, with potatoes second, and as planters in the spring, other plantings are made to take the ground in use and distribute the labor among the organization. There is a large acreage of beets, carrots and onions, and the Okeechobee cold winter weather. Plans for the first plantings of celery were obtained from Sanford to replace the farm's supply which was destroyed, but none had arrived and could have been reestablished.

A cold storage plant, is being built at Shawnee, into which the vegetables will be packed after the fields and washed under sprays of cold water to take off the plant heat. This building is being located on a large acre of land, and the tables will be moved up the canal to Belle Glade for loading into refrigerated tank cars.

The refrigerating process is expected to put the vegetables into the market cities in cooler condition.

A dragline machine is excavating rock from the bottom of the canal, and the rock is being used to repair the roads in the area.

H. P. Vining, president of the Brown Company, in an address concerning the production of peanuts and the interests of his firm, said the new Southern operation at Miami recently:

"Forty-two different commercial enterprises are now in the interior of the Everglades, which is being entered on Florida papers, newspapers and lime beans raising thousands of farmers from Palm Beach to Homestead. Positive no doubt that this is the direction we have now and the millions that federal government appropriated for peanut cultivation could be more profitably spent in other areas of the country than in New York."

The Everglades contains the greatest deposit of muck and peat in the world.

"Peanuts are one of the five main staple crops, tobacco, cotton, sugar, tobacco, potatoes, corn and corn. The Everglades is an ideal location for the peanut industry, and many people think its hay can be produced to the acre there as in other localities."

"H. P. Vining, president of the Brown Company, in an interview, said:

"We ship the peanuts which we now are producing on the 70,000-acre farm which is located just southeast of Belle Glade to our New Hampshire plants, where the oil is extracted."

"The Brown Company owns 4,000,000 acres of land in other sections of the North American continent of the North American continent, employs more than 9,000 persons. The company is more than 75 years old and is worth more than $70,000,000. The manufacture of paper is our chief business."

"Sulphur, limestone and salt, necessary to the production of paper, are available in this area."

"This was the company's reason for the growth of communities developed around additional activity. In addition to producing peanuts on our Everglades farm, the company is carrying on extensive farming activities in the Everglades."

In a cabinet in the research department of Brown Company are contains the health giving properties is the shortest ray in sunshine and the most powerful.

He describes the benefit in the upper air which prevents many ultra violet rays from getting through and having an injurious effect on the skin of the human body and animals.

Absence of smoke and dust particles in the air in Florida is the shortest ray, he said, and therefore Florida sunshine is far more beneficial and health giving than any other part of the country.

Touching on the value of sunbathing to agriculture in the Everglades, Dr. Siepmann declared that the sunbathing of the people is good and therefore those grown in Florida are peculiarly beneficial to the human body.

Graphically describing the effects of the use of power of the ultra violet ray, Dr. Siepmann stressed the fact that the artificial use of the rays is dangerous unless controlled by scientific methods and directions. The ray, he said, cannot penetrate ordinary glass and where it must pass through glass, such as windows, it is manufactured from quartz is used.

Graphically describing the experiments in the Miami River Adams Sandbar, Dr. Siepmann said that this is a peculiarly strategic point for such activities because of the clarity of the sunbeam. He described the experiments which are being carried on Switzerland and Arizona, said Florida is a unique point of interest.

He described the sun record instruments which have been installed in the foundation's observatory at the county superintendent's office.

He said the record instruments would be carried on over a period of two years at the end of which it was hoped there would be some valuable discoveries to give to science.

The society will meet again December 27, when Dr. Selman Wasserman will speak on the urgent need of New Jersey, will deliver an address.

The society will be transferred to the new school building at Belle Glade during the holidays and school will open in the new building Thursday, January 2, Joe A. Youngblood, W. T. Youngblood, Beach, county superintendent of public instruction, wired Monday.

Dr. Siepmann said the new buildings will be completed this week, the county superintendent added.

Dr. Siepmann said the new grounds of the Belle Glade school to accommodate the completion and occupancy of the new building, Mr. Oscar B. McClure, president of the board of education, showed that the five main campaons soon were able to return home or to friend's residence.

Red Cross nurses were at all five camps, assisting the State health authorities in care of the sick and in inoculating against epidemics.

him to communicate with the county superintendent. A telegram was sent to Mr. Youngblood Monday forenoon and a reply was received promptly, with the assurance that every action that is required will be taken.

A roadway is yet to be built to the school grounds, and County Commissioners and the Sunbeamers have asked to urge action to that end. The town of Belle Glade is not in position to build a sidewalk paralleling the county road, nor can the board of pass to the railroad station, heavily laden with hampers of beans.

Confidence is felt that the county commissioners will co-operate in this regard as fully as they have in the past.

Greetings, Friends

At this radiant season of Good Cheer when business cares are overshadowed by good fellowship and kind thoughts, we sincerely wish you a New Year abounding with Success, Good Luck and Happiness.

Bank of Canal Point

CANAL POINT

Oswald Rylas, formerly of Glenwood, Ga., came recently and has taken employment with the Southern Sugar Company. He visited Fort Lauderdale the past week. Captain Lockhart and Slen Hays, in charge of a tug and barge, left last Friday in Canal Point for the first of the winter run from Miami to Clewiston. The boat was loaded with furniture for an addition to the backs of the houses at Clewiston and will be providing accommodations for members of the crew which will run for the next month.

This was the third holiday week Canal Point ever experienced. Merchants had not stocked up well and many of the stores and many of the residents went to West Palm Beach to make their purchases of gifts and other household items.

The sugar company has had most of the vacant lots in the old "Home" company town sold off and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jeffries, Jeff Morris, to spend the holidays with relatives in Monticello.

Mrs. Mary Young has gone to Clewiston, Fla., to spend Christmas with her son.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Goolsby and C. H. Goolsby spent Christmas in Clewiston.

Both members of the firm of Daniels & George, blacksmiths at Mr. and Mrs. George's home, with their families.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Baker had a radiogram on Christmas day from their son, David, who is a seaman on a United States battleship in the Pacific ocean.

The Town Building is being prepared and ready for occupancy by a drug store and Grady Boynton's recreation hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Forbes have just returned from a short vacation. Former residents of Canal Point spent their Christmas at Canal Point with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hargrove.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Todd returned the latter part of last week from a vacation in the mountains. Mr. Todd's condition is still poor. Their daughter Sally was out from West Palm Beach this week and relatives were here from Plant City.

T. B. Gilbert, chemist at the gas station, has gone to his old home, Napaerville, Ill.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

M. E. CHURCH
Sunday school 9:15 a.m.; Preaching at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

During the Christmas entertainment, the program included an individual communion service to the church by Mrs. Sanders, class, a pleasant surprise to the congregation who were in the dining room only as the program was rendered by the children.

Our need for the new building is great and the roof to be put on as soon as the window frames are in. The old bell will be placed in the bell tower upon its completion. The dedication will be an event noteworthy in the annals of Canal Point and the time will be set by the president bishop of the Fort Lauderdale District Superintendent, S. E. Garth, at some future date.

Wm. H. Morris II of Fort Lauderdale, who continues active in projects for local marketing of citrus crops, is back on the latter part of the year. He was accompanied by A. D. Robinson of Homestead, secretary and treasurer of the State Farmers of Florida, of which Mr. Morris is president. Mr. Robinson is a former Indian newspaper man and has been over the equipment of The Everglades News with interest and surprise to find such a well equipped office in so small a town. The two men are on this trip, where a co-operative association has been organized.

LAWS TO PROTECT TRUCK GROWERS IF THEY CO-OPERA-

It has long been a sore spot with the people of the Pahokee area that Pahokee is the railroad station under that name. A station of the Florida East Coast railroad, although the railroad is owned by Pahokee and serves Pahokee.

The cold weather did not deter our little "bunch" of workers from giving their Christmas tree.

After being encouraged by our relatives from the congregation of friends and relatives who had braved the cold weather to sing.

After singing their songs and speaking their pieces, the children received each a soap dish with a spoon from the hands of our pastor.

The results of the one week of drilling the little holes were better than might have been expected.

We are proud of our little group of Pahokee business men. Town Clerk, Mr. P. L. Ladd, and his wife, Mrs. Ladd, have given us a great deal of help.

At the request of a committee of Pahokee business men, Town Clerk, Mr. P. L. Ladd, and his wife, Mrs. Ladd, have given us a great deal of help.

The letter is signed with a lot of signatures, Lewis G. Thompson, Secretary.

Mr. Elliott (to Thomas) departing for school: "Don't let me hear any more about it."

Thomas: "I'll try hard, but you know how things like that will break out."

CHRISTMAS DONATIONS

Additional donations to the not-for-the-cash-only Christmas tree held on the football ground Monday night are as follows:

Mr. Elliott, Stadnick's Market $3.75, C. G. Burns $3, J. G. Weeks $3, Hook's grocery apples, dras.
